

A SPECIAL PLAYDATE

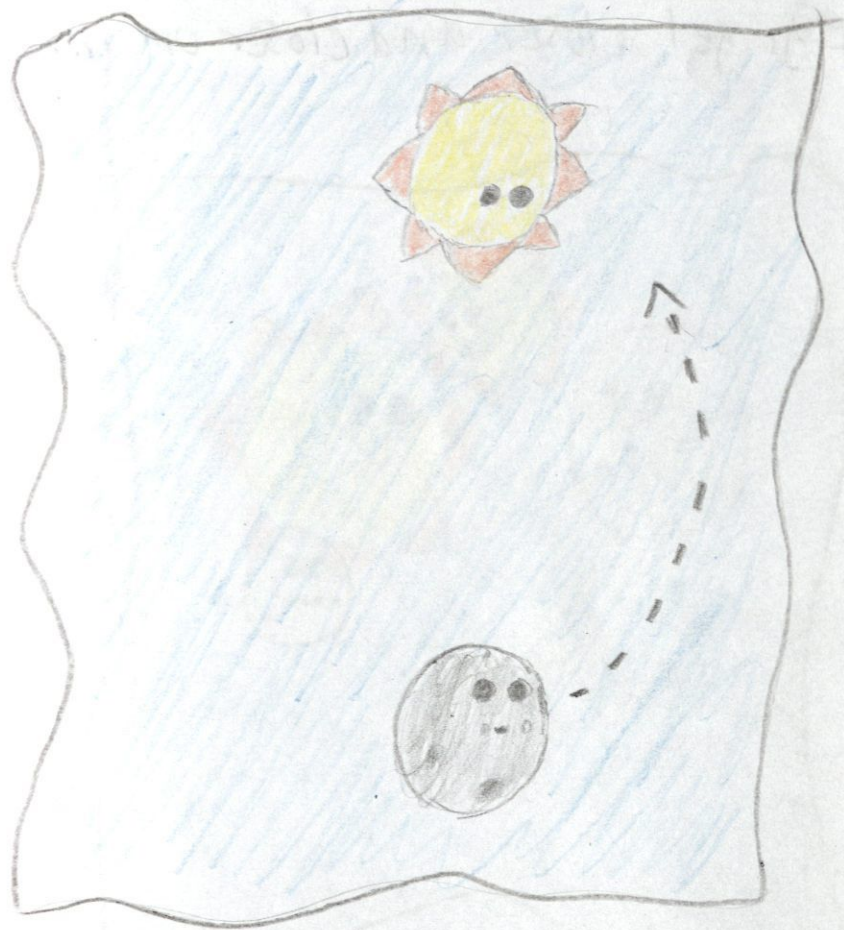

Tim Thai

In the sky there were two friends named Sun and Moon.

Sun and Moon loved to joke
and always had fun playing together,

but they were not able to see each other often because they lived far away from each other.

Once in a while, Sun and Moon would be able to plan a day trip to see each other.

They get closer and closer on this day

Close enough that they can whisper secrets to each other.

Close enough that they can high five.

Close enough that they can hug.

Close enough that- oh no!
Where did Sun go?

Sun disappeared! Moon was so sad she couldn't see Sun anymore that the whole sky turned dark.

! But a few moments later, the sky starts to turn bright again, and Sun comes back out.

"I was just playing hide and seek!"
Sun explained.

6 Sun and Moon had so much fun that time flew by. It was time for them to go back home.

They said their goodbyes and waited patiently for their next playdate.
